

WOMEN

BROWN'S

IRON BITTERS

THE BEST TONIC.

This medicine combines Iron with pure vegetable tonic, and is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who had sedentary lives. It Enriches and Purifies the Blood, Stimulates the Appetite, Strengthens the Muscles and Nerves—in fact, thoroughly invigorates. Clears the complexion, and makes the skin smooth. It does not blacken the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do.

Mrs. ELIZABETH BATES, 74 Farwell Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., says, under date of Dec. 26th, 1884: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters, and it has been more than a doctor to me, having cured me of the weakness ladies have in life. Also cured me of Liver Complaint, and now my complexion is clear, and good. Has also been beneficial to my children."

Mrs. LOUISA C. BRADON, East Liverpool, N. Y., says: "I have suffered untold misery from Female Complaint, and could obtain relief from nothing except Brown's Iron Bitters."

FAIRCHILD APPOINTED.

THE PRESIDENT FILLS THE VACANT CABINET POSITION.

Isaac H. Maynard, of New York, Appointed to Fill the Vacancy Caused by Mr. Fairchild's Promotion—Our National Debt Statistics—Other National Affairs.

CHARLES S. FAIRCHILD.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The following appointments were made by the president to-day: Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, to be secretary of the treasury, vice Manning, resigned, and Isaac H. Maynard, of New York, to be assistant secretary of the treasury, vice Fairchild, promoted.

Charles S. Fairchild, the new secretary of the treasury was born in 1842 at Cazenovia, N. Y. He was a graduate of Harvard, and was admitted to the bar in Albany. In 1874 he was appointed deputy attorney general of New York, and obtained distinction in the prosecution of the canal ring frauds of that state. He was for a long time president of the New York Charities association.

Judge Maynard, the assistant secretary, has been the second comptroller of the treasury department, with headquarters at New York. The position paid him $5,000. He had charge of all army accounts, claims and pension allowances. The new position pays but $4,500.

The "Debt Statement."

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The debt statement which the treasury department issues at the close of each month is out to-day. Every month, for years and years, it has made its appearance. The treasury officials have bound volumes of them. They can turn to any of them and tell you just how the debt and the "cash on hand" and the interest account stood at any time in the past decade or two. Yes, they can delve a little deeper and tell you how the debt and credit account has stood ever since the days when Alexander Hamilton organized the treasury department. What a contrast the "debt statement" of to-day is with that of a half century ago.

Fifty years ago the outstanding principal of the public debt was in round numbers $3,000,000. Since that time it has been almost three billions. In 1835, fifty-two years ago, it reached its lowest point in the history of the treasury department; it was then only $37,518. Thirty-one years later, in 1866, it had reached its highest point, and was then $2,773,333,173. To-day's statement shows the debt to be, in round numbers, $1,700,000,000, and deducting the "cash in treasury," it is about $1,300,000,000. If we could go on cutting it down as we have been doing of late, a hundred millions a year, a little more than a decade would render this formidable "debt statement" almost a cipher. To-day's debt statement shows that the annual interest charge is now about seventy-five cents per annum. In 1865 it was $4.29 per cent.

One curious feature of this debt statement is the amount of government indebtedness past due and payable still outstanding and not presented for payment. To-day's statement shows something like $10,000,000 on which "interest has ceased since maturity." This is an unusually large amount, caused by the proximity of this issue to the date of last call; but there is a pretty large sum that has been so long past due and yet never demanded, that it leads to the belief that it never will be called for. There are, for instance, over $1,000,000 worth of government securities that have been overdue for from five to fifty years. Of course the interest has long since ceased, and if the bonds were known to be in existence they would doubtless have been presented for payment ere this. Some of them are probably stuck away in "safe" places, so safe that their hiding places and very existence are forgotten.

Out-Door Exercise for the President.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Many of the president's friends have of late been urging him to take active out-door exercise as soon as the weather would permit. To-day's Baltimore Sun refers to the subject as follows: "The president, it is said, has yielded to the advice of his friends, and will take to horse-riding as a means of exercise. Secretaries Bayard, Lamar, Whitney and Fairchild have described to him the benefits they derived from equestrianism, and he has consented to join them in some of their gallops across the country." Mrs. Cleveland is said to be delighted with the idea of her husband taking to horseback riding. The president's seat brown is not well adapted for saddle horses, and early additions to the White House stable may be looked for.

Investigating the Chicago Postoffice.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—On the 12th of April, Commissioners Lyman and Edgerton will meet at Chicago, Ill., to conduct a thorough investigation of the workings of the postoffice in that city, and to examine into the appointments made by the postmaster. The postmaster will be previously instructed to have all data in relation to appointments, dismissals, etc., prepared for inspection, so that as little time as possible will be consumed after the arrival of the commissioners.

Sad Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Gen. Stewart Van Vliet, of the army, returned to the city last night just in time to receive news of the death of his mother, who was aged ninety years. Her sons were Brevet Maj. Gen. Stewart Van Vliet, United States army, and Col. Frederick Van Vliet, who is now major of the Tenth cavalry.

Consuls Recognized.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The president has recognized Arturo P. Cushing as consul of the United States of Mexico, for Boston, Mass., and its district, and Isaac T. Smith, consul general of Siam, at New York.

Cases Before the Land Office.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—There are now before the general land office 35,105 cases awaiting adjudication. During the past week 1,268 land patents were approved.

The Clerical Duty of the Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Maj. S. A. Jones, of the interior department, has been detailed temporarily for clerical duty with the interstate commerce commission.

THE BUILDERS' CONVENTION.

Proceedings of the Last Day's Session of the National Conference at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 2.—The last day of the National Convention of Builders was devoted to the selection of a board of directors of the National association for the ensuing year, the passage of a series of resolutions and various other business. The following board of directors was chosen: Cleveland, Thomas Simmons; Milwaukee, Thomas Mason; Charleston, S. C., Henry Oliver; Nashville, Tenn., J. N. Phillips; Detroit, W. S. Vinton; Minneapolis, H. N. Leighton; Baltimore, William Ferguson; Chicago, G. C. Prussing; St. Paul, E. F. Osborne; Buffalo, Charles Berwick; Cincinnati, James Allison; Philadelphia, William Harkness, Jr.; Columbus, Thomas C. Kuans; Indianapolis, W. C. Junglaeus; New Orleans, H. F. West; Boston, Leander Greeley; New York, Maro Edlitz; Troy, C. A. Meeker; Worcester, E. B. Crane; Grand Rapids, W. C. Wetherly; Sioux City, F. F. Beck; Pittsburg, Samuel Francis; Providence, George R. Phillips.

An indorsement was given to the bill proposed by the licensing of architects. It was decided to levy a per capita tax of $2 on the members of the different building exchanges to pay the expenses of the National association. After a brief address by President Blair the convention adjourned sine die.

Poisoned His Wife.

AURORA, Ill., April 2.—The coroner's jury before whom the body of Mrs. Arthur Terry was recently exhumed has been in session two days with closed doors. The stomach and liver of the woman, who died in June, were found to contain large quantities of arsenic. Her husband, who about two months ago married a woman of bad reputation in Chicago, is strongly suspected of having poisoned his first wife, and on four occasions since of having deliberately attempted to murder his father and mother and two children in the same manner. He went to New Orleans some days since, and was arrested there yesterday. There is hardly a doubt of his guilt, yet his parents have tried hard to shield him, though they have themselves so narrowly escaped death at his hands on at least five different occasions.

Alaska Gold Fever Recurs Early.

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—A special to the Globe-Democrat says news from Alaska has been received from the steamship Idaho, which arrived at Port Townsend last night, that the gold fever is setting in early, notwithstanding a most severe winter. The hundred men have started from Yukon already, and many others are ready to start. Petroleum beds are rumored to have been found near Juneau. The gold prospectors are preparing to scatter in all directions in the spring. The Alaska Mining company is about to start new mills near the celebrated Treadwell mine of Douglas Island. At Sitka within the last four months twenty-two natives have been admitted to the Greek church.

A Constable Arrested for Murder.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 2.—Wednesday evening Sheriff Laird, of Grant county, came to Belin village, a few miles south of this place, and arrested a constable named Hughes on a charge of murder. It transpires that Hughes was constable at Pinos Altos, and about two weeks since had a difficulty with Mexicans, and, weapons being drawn, Hughes shot and killed Martinez, and fatally wounded Gomez, coming out of the conflict himself without a wound. Hughes claims that he used his pistol in self-defense.

Reward to Science Renewed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 2.—Dr. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner observatory, announces the renewal by H. H. Warner, of this city, of the Warner comet prize of $100 for each unexpected comet discovered by any one anywhere in the world during the year ending March 31, 1888. The comet of 1815 is excepted as it is reported to be due this year. About $5,000 in money and medals have been awarded under this prize since 1880.

Hardship in the Lumber Region.

FREDERICKTON, N. B., April 2.—Many lumbermen are arriving from the Maine woods, and tell a piteable tale of hardship. The snow in the woods is seven feet deep. One party of six were two weeks on the road here from the camps. Their only money was in Maritime bank notes, in which there is 50 per cent. discount, and it costs them over a month's wages to get home.

Five Thousand Men Still Out.

NEW YORK, April 2.—It is said that 5,000 men are still out of work by reason of District Assembly 49 sympathetic strike along shore and that is the number of men for whose benefit 49 is to give a concert next Sunday night in the New Windsor theater. T. V. Powderly will be present and make a speech.

An Extensive Land Swindle.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Special Land Agent Berger, who has been investigating the Redwood land fraud in Humboldt county, says he will report that it is the most extensive land swindle ever unearthed. His report will, he thinks, lead to the revoking of the grant, which is estimated to be worth $3,000,000.

Death of a Famous Poet.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—John G. Saxe, the famous poet and lecturer, died at his home in this city yesterday. He had lived in retirement for a number of years. He was seventy-one years old.

HE TURNED DETECTIVE.

A VIRGINIAN GOES FOR THE SAWDUST SWINDLERS.

He Succeeds in Finding Them But the New York Officers Only Give Him the Laugh—He Finds Himself Out One Revolver and Much Valuable Time Lost.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Jacob H. Clare, of Pocahontas, Va., is twenty-six years old, robust and ambitious. He tired of farming in 1886 and went to Charleston, W. Va., where he joined the staff of the Eureka Detective agency. He read the killing of the sawdust man, Tom Davis, in New York, August, 1885. There would be much glory, he argued, in capturing such a swindler red-handed and exposing his system.

So a fortnight ago when a relative of Clare received a "green goods" circular, he resolved on coming to New York and having a little fun with the swindlers. The circular appeared to come from Lewis Adams, 118 East Thirteenth street. The victim was to go to the Broadway hotel and the private signal was to be "B 75." Clare arrived at the hotel Monday evening, having $275. Notifying Adams of his arrival he waited for the man with the password.

The appointment was kept by a hook-nosed, shabby little man. Then he talked freely about "our goods," what excellent imitations they were, etc. Clare allowed him to believe that he had $300 to invest. Then the man announced himself as Charles Adams, brother of the principal, and then hurried Clare out to meet Lewis. In a saloon at Fourteenth street and First avenue Clare was introduced to a cautious and exquisitely attired person who congratulated him on his good fortune and good sense, and expatiated on "the article" as brother Charles had done. Clare was urged to drink, but declined. He accepted a five cent cigar, which he threw away when they parted, with the agreement that Clare was to remain secluded at his hotel until 2 o'clock, when he would be taken to where negotiations would bear substantial fruit.

The messenger was "Brochas," and, trying to inspire Clare with the terror he feigned, he led him by way of Broadway, Twelfth street, to a saloon in First avenue, where Lewis turned up. Clare again declined to drink, but said he was ready to take the "stuff," and was again told stories of the keenness of the New York detectives. He was on the point of spoiling the affair several times by laughing at the boldness of the swindle, but he allowed himself to be escorted out, and walked around till his head was in a whirl, and he dived into a cellar which he thinks was in First or Second avenue, near Fifth street. In the cellar were a stove, a table and three chairs. After "tying the lodge" the Adams brothers proceeded to make their grand coup. Lewis took from the table a tin box, and from it produced a large package of what he said was the stuff he dealt in.

He invited Clare to examine and count it, and Clare found that there were $7,500 in genuine one, two, five and ten dollar bills. He was to have the money for $300, and felt tempted to take out his revolver and hold the swindlers prisoners until an officer came. He, however, allowed them to go through the entire performance. He aided Lewis to put the $7,500 in a little black satchel, and knew that a few seconds after it was closed and fastened that the "changes" were running, but he could not see how the satchel with the money in was changed for one with only waste paper. The agreement was made that Brother Charles was to go with him to the Adams express office, ship the satchel to Pocahontas, give him a receipt and take the $300. Clare and Charles started, and at Lafayette Place Clare thought the denouement time had come, so he seized Brother Charles and shouted "Pollee."

An officer heard the story and arrested both of them for fighting, and at the Jefferson Market police court he made a charge of disorderly conduct against each. Clare told his story, and, perhaps, if a detective had been sent out then, he could have nabbed the principal in the affair. But Justice Duffy heard the general denial and the assertion of "Brother Charles," who said he was Charles Gordon, and that he and Clare were casual acquaintances and that they never talked of "green goods," although the satchel corroborated Clare's story and sent Gordon to Blackwell's Island for six months. Then he advised Clare to "clear out of New York." Clare, when he left court, appeared much grieved at the magistrate's interpretation of his intentions. "Why," said he, "to make matters worse, I did not take a cent of money with me, and tried to do a public service. My reward is a bullragging and the loss of my revolver." "Gordon" was recognized as an old hunko operator.

Track Island Train Robbery Trial.

MONROE, Ill., April 2.—In the Schwartz-Watt murder trial Judge Debell gave a decision on the objection by the defense to the admission of testimony from forty witnesses, service of whose names to the defendant's council was made only at or about the time the trial began. He permits the state to call eighteen of those named. This decision is of vital benefit to the prosecution, for the exclusion of any number of its witnesses included in the list would cripple the case. The first witness, Brakeman Johnson, testified to seeing Schwartz hanging about the box room in Davenport, before Danforth's train started back for Chicago. Schwartz wanted to change with him and get back to Chicago. When the train reached the city Schwartz had disappeared. Brakeman Mulligan testified that on the return trip to Chicago Schwartz acted suspiciously, and would not talk of murder.

Opposing Henry George.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Rev. H. A. Brann, censor of the Roman Catholic diocese of New York, delivered a lecture last night at St. Francis Xavier college, in opposition to Henry George's land theories. He condemned them as opposed to the teachings of the Bible and the church, and said they were held mostly by ignorant and unreasonable men.

Jake Sharp's Trial.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The Times announces that Jake Sharp will be the next hoodler brought to trial by the district attorney. The case will doubtless come up in May before Judge Barrett.

A CHANGE OF FEELING.

The People of Newfoundland Will Not and Dare Not Enforce Their Bait Bill.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 2.—A change of feeling has occurred in Newfoundland over the bait bill. The Herald publishes a St. John's letter which says: "The opposition has shown the legislature and the country that the bait bill is powerless, even if assented to, to prevent the French and Americans from procuring bait and that it would create unbearable monopolies in the bait and herring fisheries, and would ruin thousands of our fishermen."

Again and again they sounded this alarm but the government suppressed their speeches. They protested and spoke against the bill and the government dared not suppress their speeches a second time. From being a popular measure the bill has become a most unpopular one and it is safe to say that the government itself will now take steps to have it disallowed. They could not enforce its provisions; they dared not if they could and they will doubtless prefer to back down now than after the bill has been assented to by the queen in council.

No Cure for Consumption.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—This week's Medical News will say that recent articles extensively published throughout the country announcing the cure at the Philadelphia hospital of a number of patients suffering with consumption through treatment by injections of carbonic acid gas and sulphuretted hydrogen, greatly exaggerated the success of the treatment, it says, and was first introduced by Bergson, of Lyons. In an editorial article on the subject the Medical News says: "So far as we know there have been no cases cured," certainly not at the Philadelphia hospital, and even those of Bergson's patients who were most benefited continued to have slight expectoration containing bacilli. The results at the Philadelphia hospital in the limited series of cases which have been under treatment have been in the reduction of the fever and the sweats, the lessening of the expectoration and the increase of weight. These are gains to be thankful for and encourage us to hope that we may have here a remedial measure of some value, but further than this nothing can be said. Phthisis, as we usually meet it, is an acute disease, and an experience of seven weeks is far too short a time in which to form a judgment of the permanent beneficial effects of the treatment. It will take a year or two at least to thoroughly test its value."

A Probable Clew.

UTICA, N. Y., April 2.—The police have obtained some important clews which, it is believed, will lead to the capture of the train robber who operated so successfully on the West Shore railway near here. In a piece of woods, 150 yards distant from the point where the desperado left the train, pieces of express envelopes and parts of several bank notes were found. The spot is in the woods, and was discovered by two young men who were out hunting. The foot-prints of only one man were apparent, and these, after leaving the place, led in the direction of the old Chenango canal, and then followed down the bank toward the city, where the trail was lost. The police think there is a similarity between the man described by the messenger and a fellow who has been hanging around town for two weeks or more. They expect developments from their investigations in a short time. The pieces of the greenbacks found are of such size that the denomination to which it belonged can be readily learned.

Wanted to Serve Patti in the Spirit Land.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The trial of Dr. James Hodges, who exploded a bomb in the Grand opera house on February 9, during Patti's concert, began yesterday. Hodges has heretofore resisted all endeavors to get a statement as to his real intent in exploding the bomb. When he was placed on the witness stand yesterday, however, he spoke freely. He testified that he had gone to the opera with the intention of ending his life while Patti was singing, so he "could be her page in the spirit land." The jury brought in a verdict of guilty of the charge of assault to murder.

Funeral of the Late Ray Palmer.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The funeral of the Rev. Dr. Ray Palmer took place yesterday afternoon from the Bellevue Avenue Congregational church, Newark, of which he was formerly associate pastor. Prior to the removal of the remains to the church there was a private service at his late residence, which was attended by members of the family. The service at the house lasted but a few moments. At its conclusion the body was removed to the church. A feature of the services at the church was the singing of Dr. Palmer's own hymns. The remains were taken to Albany.

Saved Himself With Pepper.

HELLEN'S CREEK, April 2.—Netta Fink, a fifteen-year-old girl, while returning home from the village store Wednesday night, was seized by a man on the highway who dragged her toward the woods. She struggled bravely, and having some pepper among her purchases, she had the presence of mind to dash it into the man's face. This blinded him and enabled her to escape. On her reaching home the neighbors were summoned and a posse has scoured the woods ever since for the miscreant. If caught the fellow will be badly treated.

Walt Whitman's Ambition.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Walt Whitman, the venerable poet, will temporarily emerge from his seclusion at Camden, on the 14th of this month, for the purpose of delivering his lecture on Lincoln at the Madison Square theater, New York. Mr. Whitman says that so long as he is able to move about he will endeavor to yearly offer this tribute to Lincoln's memory, that there may be at least this memorial of the anniversary of that great man's death.

Death of a Distinguished Turfman.

CRAB ORCHARD, Ky., April 2.—Capt. J. G. Moore, the distinguished turfman, died at his home here at 3:30 this morning from pneumonia. Capt. Moore trained and developed more celebrated horses than any other trainer in America. Among them were Idlewild, Molly Jackson and Foster. He had been engaged the past ten months writing a volume of memoirs of celebrated turfmen and horses, which work he had nearly completed.

ATTENTION, FARMERS.

Raise More Corn, More Wheat, More Potatoes, More Hogs and Less Tobacco.

PERN LEAF, KY., April 1, 1887.

To the Tobacco Growers of Kentucky: The writer has been receiving circulars and letters from the tobacco houses of Cincinnati and Louisville, two of the largest and best tobacco markets in the world, and almost every letter contains this statement: "Market this week dull, and prices lower." Every man who is interested in the price of tobacco, and is posted, knows that the market is lower than it has ever been for more than twenty years. He also knows that over-production is the only cause. The acreage of tobacco is now twice as great as it was eight years ago, and the stock now on hand in all the markets in the United States has doubled in the last two years, as shown by statistics taken from the Louisville Circular, of March 1, 1887:

Stock on hand March 1, 1885, 21,853 hids.

Stock on hand March 1, 1887, 41,506 hids.

The above shows the stock on hand in nine of the principal markets in this country, to say nothing of the heavy stock in hands of manufacturers, bought up at low figures. Thus it is shown that the surplus on hand has increased nearly 100 per cent. in two years. Is it any wonder that the prices have fallen off?

For this there is only one remedy and that is in the hands of the farmers. We must lessen the supply by raising a less quantity.

Let every farmer plant only one-half his usual quantity, put it on the best land and give it extra care and attention. By so doing they will save labor, get a better price for their tobacco and realize more money for half the crop than for a full one. If a full crop is planted, still lower prices will be the inevitable result, and hard times the general cry all over the tobacco district. Farmers are too apt to argue in this way, and say to themselves, "there will be a short crop planted this year and I will put in a good big one, and hit the boom," and by so doing a big crop and low prices are the certain result. Let us raise more corn, hemp, potatoes, hogs, cattle, &c., and less tobacco, and we are sure to be profited thereby.

A New Way to Pay Old Debts.

Shakespeare tells how this can be accomplished in one of his immortal plays, but debts to nature must be paid on demand unless days of grace be obtained through the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is not a "cure all" but invaluable for sore throat, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, consumption, and all diseases of the pulmonary and other organs, caused by scrofula or "bad blood." Scrofulous ulcers, swellings and tumors are cured by its wonderful alternative action. By druggists.

Herr Johann Most Released from Prison.

New York, April 2.—Herr Johann Most, the notorious Anarchist, who was sentenced by Recorder Smyth on May 10, 1886, to a year imprisonment on Blackwell's Island, for inciting to riot, was released at daylight this morning, and in company of several trusted friends came to this city. When he landed from the Charlies and Correction tug boat at the foot of East Fifth street, he was met by about one hundred of his followers, who rushed to congratulate him on his release, and with seven other Anarchists, who had been waiting for him, Herr Most boarded a Second Avenue elevated train, and repaired to a reputed rendezvous of the Anarchists opposite Bellevue hospital. Most has improved in appearance since his incarceration, and now wears a heavy three months beard. A reception will be given him by the Anarchists at Clarendon hall, on Wednesday night.

First New Steel Cruiser.

New York, April 2.—Commander Chadwick, the naval attaché of the American legation at London, visited the Brooklyn navy yard and examined the site on which it is proposed to construct the new 6,000 ton steel cruiser. Eight sets of plans for this vessel were forwarded from England by Commander Chadwick, and they will be examined and one chosen early next week. Commander Chadwick was favorably impressed with the location chosen for building the big ship. Commissioner of jurors William A. Frey was also looking about the yard. He will select the men to be employed on the work. He said the workmen would all be Democrats, and they should make a record for the Democratic administration. The success of the Democratic party, he said, depended largely upon the successful completion, within the appropriation of this 6,000 ton cruiser.

The End of Passes.

Pittsburg, April 2.—Through trains over the Pennsylvania railways and Pennsylvania company's lines Thursday were crowded with deadheads. All passes expired at 12 o'clock that night. On one of the trains from Chicago there were twenty-five ladies who carried passes. They were issued on twenty-five different accounts. The ladies resided in Philadelphia and New York principally, and were getting home while they could ride for nothing. An old conductor gave it as his opinion that nine-tenths of the people traveling that day over the Pennsylvania company's lines had passes. The officials during the past month have issued passes to almost every person who applied, regardless of former regulations. They seem to have taken compassion on the clamorous public, and issued passes with a recklessness indicating that they will henceforth have no chance to use their authority in favoring friends.

A Home and School for Poor Children.

New York, April 2.—The will of Joseph Sevilla, of Peru, who left a large fortune in trust to be used in establishing a home and school for poor children in this country, has just been filed here. It provides that if legal difficulties prevent the carrying out of the testator's purpose in America, the money shall go to France or Switzerland, to be used there in the way indicated.

Harvard Students for Blaine.

Boston, April 2.—The most interesting and exciting debate of the year was held by the Harvard Union in Sever hall last evening, on the question: "Resolved, That the interests of the Republican party require the nomination of James G. Blaine in 1888." Over two hundred students were in attendance and frequently applauded the stirring speeches.

Cotton Trade Paralyzed.

New Orleans, April 2.—The strike of the new cotton men's council is still on, and trade remains paralyzed. Several hundred bales were got through the presses to-day, but when they reached the ship's side the screw men refused to handle them. There will be a general meeting at the cotton exchange to-day to consider the situation. The merchants will try to devise some action by which the strike will be forced to a settlement.

The Chinese Inevitable Gamblers.

"The Chinese are the most inveterate gamblers in the world," says an Oriental inclined friend of mine. John Chinaman will work all the week, night and day, for the sake of gathering together a few dollars with which to play his favorite game on Sunday. He will "blow in" every cent and start for home in the small hours of Monday morning completely cleaned out, but apparently as happy and contented as ever. In the Chinese quarter of New York there is a clique of Celestial sharpers who regularly fleece their less sophisticated countrymen. Some of them are worth all the way from $50,000 to $100,000, and it is simply impossible for their comparatively poor victims to get the best of them. The majority of Chinamen play simply for the sake of gambling and will go back again and again to the dens where they have been repeatedly robbed of their hard earned dollars. This fact is but too well known to the blacklegs running the fan tan games, and I understand that few, if any, of the dens are conducted "on the square."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Monkeys in a Rage.

Monkeys are susceptible of anger, and testify it by the same actions as men. Du Chailu's bald chimpanzee, as has been seen already, showed marked preference for certain food. When one kind was given him and he liked another better, he would become irritated, throw what had been offered him to the ground, stamp his foot, and utter a particular cry. He conducted himself like a completely spoiled child.

Dr. Abel's orang-outang (simia satyrus) would get into a rage when refused the fruit he demanded. He would roll on the ground like an angry child, uttering piercing cries.

Monkeys in a state of liberty show similar signs of anger and hatred. The green apes that Adamson pursued in the forests of Senegal, would knit their brows, grind their teeth, and scold furiously.—Henry Howard in Cosmopolitan.

Substitute for Cards.

Big visiting cards have been the rage with a certain element in Paris, and as a protest against their use a number of the leaders of the American colony there have decided to taboo cards altogether. As a substitute they place a small ornamental slate in their halls, upon which callers are expected to inscribe their names.—Boston Transcript.

A Worthless Island.

Quelpaert, an island in the Yellow sea, is the most hopelessly worthless piece of dry land on this earth. Grass will not grow there, nor water run, nor fire burn, nor animals live, and the stars even will not shine upon it.—Chicago Herald.

Most Excellent.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity."

CLASS OF 1887.

Fifth Annual Commencement of the Aberdeen High School.

The M. E. Church at Aberdeen was crowded last evening by the citizens of that place and vicinity to witness the fifth annual commencement exercises of the High School. Haucke's band of this city furnished music for the occasion, and entertained the audience with some of their choicest selections during the evening. The pupils all "acted well their parts" and gave abundant evidence of the excellent training they have received the past session at the hands of their respective teachers. Miss Lillie Mutschelknaus was the only pupil to graduate. Her diploma was presented by Mr. T. F. Hill in a brief but very appropriate address. The school for the past session has been in charge of Prof. Lawwill and three assistants, Misses Lizzie Liggett, Nora Rees and Jennie Ellis, all of whom have been earnest and indefatigable in their efforts to bring their pupils to the high standard they have gained. In alluding to the music by Haucke's Band and Brass Band, our correspondent says: "Kentuckians certainly have a right to feel proud of this organization as it has no superiors and but few equals."

A Singular and Painful Accident.

Robert Broshears, a young farmer living in Charleston Bottom, met with a rather singular but terribly painful accident about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, which came near resulting in his death. He was engaged about a small lumber mill, in operation on the farm belonging to himself and brother, John L. Broshears and was sawing some piling for a fence at the time. After a piece of the timber had passed through, it was caught by the rapidly turning saw, up-ended and thrown back against Mr. Broshears. The end struck him with frightful force, splitting his face open from the root of the nose down to his mouth. The frontal bone of the upper jaw was fractured and the face laid open to the roof of the mouth. Dr. J. T. Strode was summoned, and with the assistance of Dr. A. G. Browning, whom he called in, succeeded in setting the fractured bones and dressing the wound after several hours difficult work. Mr. Broshears was resting well at last accounts. His escape from instant death was a narrow one.

SOMETHING REMARKABLE!

The manner in which HECHINGER & CO. are enabled to sell those fine Silk and Satin Lined Dress Suits, made out of the best imported Corkscrew, Wide-wale and Fancy Worsteds, at prices that are positively lower than you pay for ordinary made-up goods in any other Clothing House in the State, is something remarkable! When, however, you recollect that you then see that it is not so remarkable at all. They save all Manufacturers' profits and give it to their Customers. The stock of Children's Clothing, Hats, Underwear and Scarfs that Hechinger & Co. display this season is simply superb. Call in and see all of their display. It will brighten your ideas on goods and prices.

This Firm Buys All Material Direct From First Hands, and Manufactures All of Its Clothing,

HECHINGER & CO

The Leading Manufacturing Clothiers and Merchant Tailors, ODDFELLOWS' HALL.

THE Colored Oddfellows have leased from Blum & Hechinger the hall on Sutton street lately occupied by the Knights of Pythias, and will hereafter occupy it as a lodge room.

It was Charles Collins who bought Mrs. Yago's stock of millinery, instead of Mrs. F. B. Collins as stated yesterday. Mr. Collins will remove the goods to Sutton street near the postoffice.

WHILE returning from Mt. Olivet yesterday, Phil Triplett and Charles Rode met with a runaway accident, caused by the breaking of one of the spindles of the buggy. The young men escaped injury but the vehicle was wrecked.

MOSE DAULTON & BRO. have sold to Geo. S. Faurat, of Lima, O., one black roadster gelding by Wagoner, dam by Telegraph, and also one bay harness mare by Mambrino King, Jr. Mr. Faurat has bought a number of other horses in this vicinity.

D. HECHINGER, of the Oddfellows' Hall Clothing Store, says there is a small-sized boom on Sutton street. The Blum & Hechinger business house near the postoffice is now occupied from top to bottom—four tenants having rented quarters in the past month.

R. H. PATCHARD, of Catlettsburg, and Frank Kilpatrick, of New York, have leased the Boyd Manufacturing Company's lumber mills at Ripley and Levan, and are now carrying on the business under the firm name of Patchard & Kilpatrick. Captain C. W. Boyd will have charge of affairs.

MR. AND MRS. GEO. T. WOOD entertained a merry company of "surprisers" last evening in a most hospitable and pleasant manner. Music was the feature of the evening, banjo and piano solos, quartettes on the guitar, and vocal selections making up the programme. The event was enjoyed by all.

A Terrible Fire.

What a thrill of terror passes over us when we read the record of some fearful devastation by fire, and yet it is a fact that thousands are daily being consumed by the inward fire of fever, caused by consumption of the lungs, which could be subdued by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

Personal.

Dr. P. G. Smoot, of Flemingsburg, was here yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Greenwood is visiting her parents at Ironton.

A. B. Crum has returned from a business trip in the South.

Brace Up.
You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, light weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., New York.
